Treacy Wells

Following in the footsteps of her parents and two older siblings, Treacy decided to go into the accounting field. She attended the University of Connecticut graduating in 1989 with a degree in Business Administration. After spending a year with Deloitte & Touche in Waterbury, Treacy moved to Stamford and joined Krauss Whiting.

Over the last eleven years, Treacy has continually increased her client responsibilities providing a full range of accounting and tax services to small businesses and high-net-worth individuals. Today, she is one of three CPAs in her family, and her mother and sister practice public accounting in Winsted, Connecticut, in a firm founded by her father.

After working full time for years, Treacy currently splits her time between work and raising a family. She is Krauss Whiting's internal accountant and serves as treasurer of her children's school board and is actively involved in many school activities.

Treacy resides in Stamford with her husband, Skip, and their two children, Ryan and Kaitlyn.
